Treasures of Northern Europe, Medieval to Modern: England to Denmark Aboard Ocean Albatros

Dear Members and Friends of The Metropolitan Museum of Art,

In spring 2024, please join me aboard the brand-new small ship Ocean Albatros on a cruise of incredible scope and diversity. We will sail along historic trade routes to seaside towns in France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, and Denmark, exploring hidden treasures inside opulent public buildings, lavish private houses, and awe-inspiring museums that embody the rich legacy of the medieval Hanseatic League. As a longtime museum educator, I look forward to sharing with you a series of masterpieces through close looking, conversation, and transformative observation.

Our travels first take us through the cliff-lined English Channel to the North Sea and the Baltic, stopping along the way to immerse ourselves in Northern Europe's rich artistic heritage. From England, we will set sail for France, marveling at the coastal rock formations of Normandy that inspired Claude Monet. At the Bayeux Cathedral, we'll have a private look at the famed Bayeux Tapestry, an iconic achievement of medieval art.

In the Low Countries, we'll savor exclusive looks at Dutch and Flemish masterworks, sailing to Bruges for expert-led museum tours and visiting Ghent to see the Van Eyck brothers' monumental altarpiece. We'll celebrate Holland's tulip season amid the sprawling Keukenhof Gardens and enjoy a private tour of Amsterdam's Van Gogh Museum.

In Hamburg, Germany, we'll dine atop the innovative Elbphilharmonie concert hall. Then we'll navigate the world's busiest artificial waterway, the 61-mile-long Kiel Canal connecting the North Sea to the Baltic. You may then opt for inside looks at Berlin's incredible landmarks and ancient treasures at its restored Neues Museum. Alternatively, visit romantic, little-known Schwerin to go behind the scenes of a 14th-century island castle and art museum set in a pristine lake. Our voyage concludes in Copenhagen, UNESCO's World Capital of Architecture, with an inside look at the 17th-century Rosenborg Castle, featuring 400 years of royal treasures.

We'll sail in the company of members from The National Trust for Historic Preservation and the alumni associations of Dartmouth, Duke, Harvard, Johns Hopkins, Tufts, the University of Mary Washington, and Vanderbilt. I hope you will join us on this unforgettable sea voyage aboard the new Ocean Albatros.

Sincerely,
Rika Burnham
